SEYMOUR.

HIS APPEARANCE AT INDIANAPOLIS MONDAY NIGHT.

How He Looked and What He Said of the Situation—The Prospect in Indiana.

From the Special Correspondent of the Louisville Journal.]

INDIANAPOLIS, October 27, 1868.—Seymour has come and gone; and, I suppose, an off-hand word or so about the man and his visit, how he looks and what he said, and all about him, may not be uninteresting at this time.

"Gov'nor," said a rough old hoosier, who had gathered with the rest in the Union depot to see the Democratic nominee, "if ye'd jest a'come a month sooner, we'd a'put Hendricks through." "Well," said Seymour good humoredly, "if you'll put the balance of the ticket through, I'll take care of Hendricks." A gentleman said to him at the Palmer House, "You are not too late, Governor, but we would have been delighted to have had you earlier." To which Seymour replied, "I did not intend originally to make any speeches at all. I do so now to let the people know that the party is still intact, and that the rumored change of front has no foundation to it." He also said to a party of leading Indiana Democrats, "If I am beaten in November it will be for want of that old-fashioned go-ahead Democratic spirit and concert of action which could turn the worst repulse into a victory. The October elections should encourage every Democrat. We shall carry New York and Pennsylvania in November. If the West will only stand by the ticket it is safe." He is perfectly confident and self-possessed. I do not doubt that he is perfectly sincere.

Seymour's manner of speaking is very like his appearance. It is rather more massy than ornate. His arms are long and thick, and he uses them freely; but there is little or no effort to be graceful or declamatory in his gestures. He stands flat and square upon the platform, looks his audience full in the face, and good, strong, wholesome English comes from him as if it were just a matter of course. No straining for effects nor attempts at rhetorical display disfigure the even tenor of his speech. It is eminently plain and simple and homely. But he is prudent in his phraseology. "I look around me," said he, "and I see everywhere an unequal system of legislation; and that which is unequal is"—he was about to say "unjust," but he paused and qualified it—"that which is unequal is generally unjust." A greater contrast could not be suggested than exists between the oratory of Voorhees and Seymour, or Etheridge and Seymour, or between Seymour and any of the popular speakers of the day. He is not unlike John C. Breckinridge in his carriage and tone of voice, and in appearance he resembles the Eveligs. He is quite as imposing as Mr Buchanan. His face, however, expresses a kindness and frankness which inspire regard and confidence. Old Buck never did that.

He came down to Indianapolis on the four o'clock train from Lafayette, where the Democratic Executive Committee met him Monday afternoon. All along the route crowds gathered at the stations to catch a glimpse of him. During the day he made half a dozen short, telling talks, always leaving an idea behind him. When he reached this city he was made welcome by a reception which was never surpassed in the State—processions, bands of music, waving plumes and flags, bonfires and fireworks and illuminations. The weather was very fine. Thousands came in from the immediate vicinity, and a dozen or more special trains brought in curious and eager strangers from distant points. The rink overflowed before seven o'clock.

When Seymour made his appearance he did not wear the air of a man who is jaded or travel-worn. His voice was a little husky when he began, but he soon succeeded in making himself heard throughout the place, and he never lost a moment nor missed a point, nor dropped a word from the first to the last of it. It was an earnest, thoughtful, able, kind, and manly speech. Contrasted with the vulgarisms and platitudes of Colfax, or the stupid reticence of Grant, it must have impressed every intelligent Republican who heard it with a sense of shame. It was the speech of a statesman and a patriot; it was an honest appeal to the good sense and magnanimity of the Northern people. No man could listen to it without a feeling of respect for the speaker and his cause. He spoke to the purpose. He evaded nothing. He gave reasons, too, for all he said. Colfax, who came sneaking along after him in the midnight train, poked his head out of the car window, and asked an Irishman what sort of a crowd there was to hear Seymour. "Bedad," says Pat, "if ould Grant was here, it'd make him better like a steer."

What a commentary it is on popular government that any great body of voters could walk deliberately up to the ballot-box and vote for such a man as Grant and the perpetuation of the present wretched condition of affairs, as against such a man as Seymour, and peace and law, and a fair and economical administration of the Government! We certainly need a just and a good man at the head of affairs. Grant may be a brave man and an efficient soldier; but he is a weak, ignorant and loose man. Seymour is a man who, more than any living American politician, possesses an equal balance of powers, mental and moral. He is upright, high-minded, experienced, conscientious, generous, a gentleman and Christian, who will grace the Presidential office. Grant is simply a low fellow exalted; having fair impulses, no doubt, but after all a tool in the hands of plotters and the representative of a den of thieves.

Sanford E. Church is traveling with Mr. Seymour. He is a large man, looks like Humphrey Marshall, and speaks like Gov. Bramlette. The party numbers also several friends of less note.

Hendricks was not present. He spoke at Buffalo last night. Voorhees was here, however, and looks uncommon well. Kerr, of the New Albany district, and Niblack, were also on the stand. The result of the reunion is renewed spirit on the part of the Democratic managers. There is a resolute purpose of rolling up a majority for Seymour in November. Several local causes that existed in our State canvass and marred our strength are now removed. The Jews are beginning to come out actively. The Catholic vote will be polled solid against Colfax. Bets are now going even. In fact, the clouds are drifting away from the sun.

FRANK BLAIR ON STANTON.

In a speech made at Mattoon, Ill., on the 20th inst., Gen. Frank Blair said:

Now, my fellow-citizens, I have been charged with being extremely lenient to the rebels; with seeking to have them all pardoned. I would pardon all when the safety of the Republic did not require should be punished. I would be willing to see all tried and punished whom the safety and welfare of the country required should be tried and punished. And, therefore, I should not stop short with the trial of Alexander H. Stephens. I would like to try another man or two. I would like to see Edwin M. Stanton put upon his trial.

Gen. Blair—He is too small an affair. [Cheers and laughter.]

I would like to see Edwin M. Stanton tried, and I would be willing to be the prosecutor. I will tell you what I could prove: I could prove that Edwin M. Stanton was the Attorney General under Mr. Buchanan, and that when the two Senators, Jefferson Davis and Albert Gallatin Brown, made their addresses to the Senate of the United States, taking their leave of the Senate in obedience to the instructions of their State, as Mr. Brown came out of the Senate door, Edwin M. Stanton, then receiving a salary from the Government of the United States, having sworn to protect and defend the Constitution, holding on to that office, his stomach filled with bread that he had eaten and that came from the office he filled, went up to Mr. Brown, and said: "Sir, go home to your people and maintain the position they have taken. Unite together, stand shoulder to shoulder, and you will compel these black abolitionists at the North to yield all the demands that you make." That was the language of a man then in the employ of the Government; then receiving his salary from the Government; with the oath still on his lips to maintain the Constitution and to support the Constitution of the United States. He gives this advice and encourages and gives aid and comfort to one who had determined to wage war upon the Government of the United States.

I would prove further, on another count in the indictment, that after the war had been waged for several years Stephens went with his State, took the forlorn hope, yielded to the pressure, and this man Stanton took another office in the Government of the United States, became Secretary of War, becoming the most vindictive persecutor of those whom he had urged to go into the rebellion, and that when in the changing fortunes of war our men had been made prisoners of the enemy, and we had captured some of their men, that Government, so-called, at the South came forward an offered an exchange, this man Stanton refused—refused to succor the soldiers who had been to the front and by the chances of war had been prisoners. He refused, although he knew they were dying lingering deaths in the prisons at Andersonville and elsewhere. Not only did he refuse the exchange, but when the Confederate Government, so-called, came forward and offered to surrender our sick and wounded without an exchange, he refused to take those men, but let them die in the Andersonville prison. It could be proved, also, that he refused even to send medicine and food and surgeons to them to succor them from impending death, although urged to do so by the so-called Confederate authorities.

What, think you, would be the verdict of our returned soldiers, if some of them should sit on the jury? [Cheers and laughter.] What, with such proof—and I believe such proof could be brought—would be the verdict? I would not, if I could, to-day, by legislative enactment, reach this great felon—for I regard him as a felon. I would not do it, although I conceive him to be the greatest felon in America, because I would not strike down that great shield of the Constitution, which covers all the people of this country, even to reach the worst man in the country. But I would like to see this evidence adduced, and I would like to know what verdict and sentence a jury would pronounce upon him. Aye, I have a curiosity to know. I would like to see these two men tried, because after the rebellion was closed, this Mr. Alexander Stephens was seized and imprisoned by this same man Stanton, and put in Fort Warren, in Boston harbor. And I would like to have the verdict of a jury of my countrymen to see, when Stanton turned the key on Stephens, on which side of the door stood the traitor. [Laughter and cheers. A voice "On the outside."]

My fellow-citizens, I use these examples simply to illustrate the principle upon which these men have acted.

PENNSYLVANIA.

From the New York World.]

The official returns of the vote of Pennsylvania last week, exclusive of Forest county, which polled but about 700 votes, foot up as follows:

Hartranft, (Republican)	331,063
Boyle, (Democrat)	321,791
Republican majority	9,683

A comparison of this vote with that of the State in 1864 1866 and 1867, shows that the Democrats have it in their power to carry the State for Seymour, provided, of course, that the Radicals are prevented from repeating the frauds by means of which they obtained a majority on the 13th inst. The figures are:

	Dem.	Rep.	Total.
1864	276,316	296,391	572,707
1866	260,096	307,274	567,370
1867	307,751	268,824	534,575
1868	321,791	331,064	652,455

It will be observed that the total vote of this year exceeds by nearly 80,000 that for President in 1864, and by 55,000 that for Governor in 1866, which latter was the largest vote ever previously polled by the State. Examining these figures more closely, the fact is revealed that with the exception of the vote of 1867, the increase in the Democratic vote in 1868 over that of the three other years mentioned is greater than the corresponding increase in the Radical vote, to-wit:

	Over vote 1864.	Over-vote 1866.	Over vote 1867.
Dem. inc. '68	45,675	61,295	53,640
Rep. inc. '68	34,673	23,790	64,240

Obviously the proper figures for comparison with this year's vote (since it is the largest ever cast by the State) are those of the year in which the greatest vote was polled previous to that of 1868; these are the vote for Governor in 1866. The result of such a comparison is as follows:

	Vote.	Per cent.
Democratic increase	31,295	10 7 10
Republican increase	23,790	7 7 10

Hence the Democrats not only have made a greater numerical increase than the Radicals on the largest vote polled by them previous to this year, but the per centage of their opponents.

Now to the point. It is not probable that the Radicals will poll a larger vote for Grant than they have just done for Hartranft. Indeed, the chances are that their vote in November will be smaller than that in October, for the reason that all the fraudulent votes obtained from this city and elsewhere will be needed at home. On the other hand, the Democratic vote is likely to be increased by accessions from citizens of foreign birth whose votes were rejected at the late election, not to mention others who will remain from voting for Grant, if they do not vote for Seymour, because of the high-handed outrages of the Radicals last week. There are, in round numbers, 1800 election districts in Pennsylvania (the figure is too small rather than too large), and a change of three votes in each district to the Democracy is all that is needed to secure the State for Seymour. Why cannot this be done? If the Democrats can carry West Virginia in the face of laws that disfranchise 20,000 men who would vote with them, and of a standing army against them varying from 7000 to 13,000, surely their compatriots in the Keystone State can win three votes in each election district from the Radicals. At any rate they can and must try.

—The Germans have introduced beer into Italy, and already it has come into universal use.

—The Pittsburg Post says: The Abbot of the monastery at St. Vincent's, Westmoreland county, received, prior to the election, several letters threatening to burn the property of the institution if the men connected with it attempted to vote. These letters were written by the friends of John Covode, as the votes were certain to be cast against him. The district is now contested by the scalawag because the voters from the above named institution were Catholics. They were subject to draft, pay taxes, and entitled to vote by the same rules which govern other citizens. The only trouble is they were not cast for the Republican candidate.

THE POPE AND PROTESTANTISM.

The Episcopalians to Answer the Pope's Letter.

From the N. Y. Herald of Sunday.]

It would appear that the Protestant Episcopal Convention entertains the idea of addressing a letter to Pius the Ninth, as "Bishop of Rome," which is now awaiting signatures at Trinity Church, with reference to the invitation so generously extended by the Holy Father to all the outside Churches to come into one fold, under the auspices of the Ecumenical Council to be held in Rome next year. Anything that savors of harmony in these disturbed and mixed up times is acceptable. To see the lion lying down with the lamb would be a delightful spectacle. Why should not the American Episcopalian Church respond to the call of the Roman See? The Presbyterian Church in England has already established a precedent. Long before the Pope proposed the union of the Churches the London organ of the Presbyterians in England suggested that he, as chief Bishop of the Church, should issue such an invitation, and offered to send a delegation to Rome in response. Since the time when Henry the Eighth changed his title of Defensor Fidelis to Defamator Fidelis, joined hands with Luther and Germany and became a greater secessionist than Jefferson Davis, there has been no direct communication between the outsiders and the Papal See. But the old saw says "it is never too late to mend." There were no telegraphs or railroads in the days of Bluff Harry and bluffer Martin Luther. We can make both ends meet much easier now than in those days. The Pope proposes it. The Presbyterians of England suggest it. Why does not the Episcopalian Convention of the United States give over its milk-and-water discussions about candles, censors and little boys' muslin robes, and take hold of the new idea—new at least in our day—promulgated from Rome and suggested in London, that all men can live in Christian unity, sheltered in one fold and protected by one shepherd. If some such sensible notion as this was entertained by the Episcopal Convention it might accomplish something better for religion and morality than the frivolities with which its time has been occupied.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Conflagration on Lake Erie.

A Bark full of Oil Consumed.

From a Cleveland (Ohio) Exchange.]

Saturday afternoon, about five o'clock, a gentleman obtained insurance on the bark L. H. Cotton, in the following Cincinnati Companies: Cincinnati, $3000; Franklin, $5000; American, $3000; Merchants and Manufacturers', $3000; Merchants', $3000; Washington, $2000. The Cotton sailed the next night, Sunday, from Cleveland for Liverpool. In the Cleveland Herald of Monday morning we find the following account of the loss of the ship with her entire cargo:

The bark L. H. Cotton, Capt. Geo. L. De Wolf, cleared from the port of Cleveland for Liverpool, England, and sailed for her port of destination at twenty minutes past five o'clock Sunday evening. According to her manifest there were on board 1460 barrels of spirits of petroleum (or naptha), 499 barrels of oil of petroleum, the value of which was set down at $12 428. Besides the above there were 17,590 staves and 1100 boat oars, of the value of $1610, the aggregate value of the cargo being $14 038, as made out at the custom-house. The spirits and oil were shipped by Taomas Walton and the boat oars by E. Shaw. The whole cargo was consigned to Messrs. Cunningham, Shaw & Co., Liverpool.

The crew consisted of the Captain, two mates, steward and six seamen. The Captain's wife was also on board, making eleven persons in all.

About seven o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded. It was soon ascertained that there was a vessel on fire about three miles from the piers. The first report was that a propeller had blown up, but it was soon discovered that it was the bark L. H. Cotton. Those who were aware of the nature of the cargo on board were fearful that the lives of all were lost. Soon an immense crowd gathered on the bank of the lake, and many ran down to the docks and piers. The was magnificent. The water was perfectly calm, reflecting the burning ship upon its surface. A light breeze inland turned the great volume of smoke over the city. The lurid flames illuminated the lake for miles around. The light was perceptible upon the fronts of houses and faces of people along the shore. The wind, shifting from point to point, by 8 o'clock was blowing a stiff breeze to the eastward, carrying the vessel before it, and leaving a line of burning oil upon the surface of the water behind. After drifting a while in an easterly direction, the line of oil in the wake of the vessel was entirely consumed. At this point the vessel came to a stand, and remained some time, showing no signs of sinking, seemingly very much to the dissatisfaction of the people who lingered on the banks to see her go down. Hundreds waited until midnight, determined to fight it out on that line, but the staunch craft was still above the water at that hour. The tug W. D. Cushing and the little iron steamer J. K. White fastened to her shortly before 11 o'clock p.m., and towed her to a point near the mouth of the harbor.

CAPT. DE WOLF'S STATEMENT.

Capt. De Wolf states that he left port at twenty minutes to five o'clock Sunday afternoon, in tow of the tug W. D. Cushing; about three quarters of an hour after leaving the tug, the canvas being set and all hands on deck cleaning up the vessel, a sudden and terrible explosion was heard. The whole deck seemed to heave. Barrels, oars and staves were blown into the air with great force. The explosion seemed to extend the entire length of the vessel. One man was blown overboard. Every person on board was thrown into the air, some of them as high as twenty or thirty feet. The deck settled back, all out of shape. As soon as the explosion took place the flames burst out, and the vessel was soon wrapped in a sheet of fire. The sails and rigging caught immediately, and were all burning in a moment almost. The small boat was got down as soon as possible, but not a moment too soon, as the flames were raging with great fury, and time was hardly given to get all on board. Mrs. DeWolf was in the cabin at the time of the explosion. The boat then put out in search of Mr. Hearns. He was soon found, but when the boat reached him he was nearly exhausted, being badly bruised. After taking him on board, the boat headed for the harbor. When about half way in port they met the tug Princeville, and were taken on board. Capt. DeWolf wishes us to return his sincere thanks to the officers of the tug for their promptness and kindness on this occasion. Capt. DeWolf also states that he cannot account for the explosion. There was no light or fire in the stove in the forecastle, and only one light in the cabin. There were no lights above deck, except such as the navigation laws compel all vessels to carry. Everything on board was lost. The ship's papers and the clothing of the officers and crew were all destroyed by the explosion and the fire. Some of the men came ashore with scarcely any clothing on.

NO LIVES LOST.

As remarkable and miraculous as it may seem, there were no lives lost. Nearly all on board were more or less injured. Mr. Hearns, who was blown overboard, was so badly burned that he was taken to the Marine Hospital as soon as he came ashore. The steward was also burned, and had his arm severely injured.

—A Mr. Insley, who lived about three miles from Montgomery, Ala., was shot and killed the other night by parties unknown, while he was eating supper.

—The Presidency of Harvard College has been offered to Rev. Dr. Andrew P. Peabody, the college preacher, and he is considering whether to accept it.

—Wolves in the mountains of Hampshire county, Va., are really ravenous. They do not hesitate to attack men on horseback; and as for children, it is quite unsafe to send them alone into the mountains.

—Congressman Glossbrenner, of Pennsylvania, exposes the rascality of the Radicals, who are using the franks of those Democrats, Judge Trimble of Kentucky, and Eldridge, of Wisconsin, to disseminate their vile doctrines.

—Mr. Henry G. Newman, conductor on the Pacific Railroad, at Kansas City, Mo., the other day fell between the cars or caught his foot in the frog of the switch, and the entire train passed over him, severing his legs from his body and crushing his body into a horrid mass of mangled bones and flesh.

—Gov. Scott, of South Carolina, has issued a proclamation in which he says: Information has been received that Samuel Murtishaw and Wm. Fitzgerald were the murderers of the negro Lee Nance, and offers a reward of $2500 each for their apprehension and delivery in jail, with proof to convict.

—The Indiana Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which has just adjourned its session at Logansport, elected the following officers: Grand Worthy Chief Templar, S. T. Montgomery; Grand Worthy Counselor, M. H. Mendenhall; Grand Worthy Vice Templar, R. Gray; Grand Worthy Secretary, D. R. Pershing.

—A fire in Ipswich, Mass., recently destroyed Coburn's block, occupied by Josiah Lord, fancy goods; Stephen Coburn, grocer; W. K. Bell, revenue assessor and town clerk; D. M. Tyler, jeweler, and others. Wait's shoe manufactory adjoining, was also burned. One man was injured by the explosion of kerosene. Insured.

—The barn and stables of Gen. McGowan, at Abbeville, N. C., together with a very valuable horse and some provender, were entirely consumed by fire one night last week. During the excitement of the fire, some one entered the bed-chamber of Mrs. McGowan and forcibly carried her out of the house some distance in the yard, when an alarm being given by her little daughter, she was thrown to the ground, and the villain made off. In the darkness it could not be ascertained whether the perpetrator of the deed was white or black.

THE NEWS.

Recent reports from Oregon represent that woods covering 200 square miles of land are on fire.

A mother in Rochester roasted her little girl's hand for stealing candy, to impress her with the tortures of the damned. The mother will learn more of it than she has ever taught her child.

A dispatch to the St. Louis Democrat of the 27th inst., says: The Union Pacific Railroad Company laid seven and a half miles of track yesterday, passing the advance stakes of the Central Pacific.

Nearly all the heads of departments are engaged upon their annual reports for submission to Congress. The Secretary of the Treasury has nearly completed the report for his department. The President has not commenced his message.

Gov. Brownlow has issued a proclamation requesting the observance by the citizens of Tennessee of the 26th day of November as a day of thanksgiving and praise, in accordance with the proclamation of the President, published in the APPEAL a few days since.

Eugenia Cooper has sued the Iron Mountain Railroad Company for $10,000 damages. She was put off the road recently, her ticket not being satisfactory, having been purchased under the old management. She obtained a verdict of one dollar.

As the mail train bound East approached Van Wert, Ohio, on Monday, the engineer, Israel Adams, noticed a small child on the track. To stop in time to save it he saw was impossible, and running out on the cow-catcher, and reaching down, he caught up the child and lifted it upon the engine without injuring a hair of its head, although he was in great danger of losing his own life.

Mr. C. Roach, of Auburn, N. Y., with his wife and five children, were poisoned a few days since by their white servant girl, who is supposed to have committed the terrible crime from jealousy of her mistress, whom, as the wife of the man she loved, she hated. Despairing of winning the love of Mr. Roach, she killed him and the whole family. She has been arrested.

Mr. Binckley has not determined to resign his position of Solicitor of Internal Revenue, but from the fact that he demands of the Commissioner, Mr. Rollins, that he be recognized in his official capacity, it is inferred that he intends to continue to hold the office of Solicitor, notwithstanding the "little unpleasantness" arising from the recent prosecution in New York.

At Wabashaw, Minn., on Saturday night, three men entered the American Express and Northern Packet Company's office and asked for a ticket to St. Louis. While the agent was getting change, one of them stepped behind the railing, clapped a plaster over his mouth and bound him, while an accomplice ransacked the safe of the money, to the amount of $3000. They then escaped, locking the agent in.

"Honored and Respected Sir: Your dispatch of the 22d inst., to Hon. Horatio Seymour, is universally spoken of among the masses of the people, and I sincerely and firmly believe it will do more towards the election of Seymour and Blair than all that has been said or written during the canvass. Fraternally and devotedly your fellow citizen."

On the 26th inst., at Mobile, six negroes were arrested, tried and bound over for trial, charged with the murder of Archie McLaughlin, a young white man, the rape of an old white woman at or near the Eslave bridge, in the vicinity of Mobile; also for the robbery of a young man named James Clark, also for the robbery and assault of a gentleman named May, and for an assault and battery on a colored man named Alfred Stanley. Their names are Isaac Beverly, Lewis Johnson, Lewis Tomlin, Thomas Burns, Alex. Saulsbury and Robt. James, all under twenty-one years of age, and the Mobile Times adds, a harder looking set could not be found, and most of them wore a most insolent and careless look during the whole trial.

Peshawur, India, reports of August 26th, announce that at seven o'clock in the morning of that day the town was visited by an earthquake. The shocks were at first gentle, but afterwards very violent. One bastion of the Bala-Hissar and one gateway were shaken down. The sentries and native attendants raised a great cry. Three of them were buried beneath the wall, but were yet alive. In the city, towers and walls, especially old structures, fell in numerous instances, but no lives were lost. This is another illustration of the alleged internal communication between South America and India, the earthquake of August 13th in Peru having transmitted its shocks through the center and not over the crust of the earth.

At the semi-annual General Conference of the Mormon Church, held at Salt Lake City, from October 6th to 8th, a successor was elected to Heber C. Kimball, one of the three of the "First Presidency." The choice fell upon George A. Smith, who has been a Mormon from the organization of the denomination. George A. Smith has for many years been one of the twelve Apostles, and Church historian. The latter position he still retains, but his seat among the Apostles was filled by the selection of Brigham Young, Jr. The Union Pacific Railroad seems to meet with the approbation of the Mormons, as Brigham Young, sr., stated that in 1869 emigrants would pass between Europe and Salt Lake City in twenty days, instead of being six months on the way.

A Washington dispatch to the Louisville Courier of the 28th inst. says: Some interesting facts concerning the insurrection, which has just been frustrated in Cuba, have been made public here. It was not a demonstration of loyalty toward the Spanish Queen, or toward a republican form of government under Spanish rule, but a strike for the independence of Cuba. The conspiracy was concocted with the view of the conspirators availing themselves of the advantage of the troubles in the mother country, which it was argued would so engage and embarrass the opposing forces that no force could be spared therefrom to reduce the Cubans. The conspiracy was concocted months ago and negotiations had been made in this country for ironclads and small arms, and a portion of the latter have already been furnished to the insurgents. A Creole, who had served with distinction in the Spanish army, was the leader.

Abdul-Aziz-Khan, the Sultan of Turkey, has been endeavoring to introduce into his dominions the customs of Christian nations, and has consequently excited the animosity of the fanatical adherents of Islamism. To this cause may be attributed the plot to dethrone him recently discovered. His brother, Mehemmed Mourad, the heir presumptive according to the law of Turkey, is accused of having participated in the conspiracy, and hence, this internal disturbance may give rise to important changes. The late English papers assert that the Sultan, to punish his brother, will change the order of succession to the throne, so that his own male children will inherit as in the case in other royal families of Europe. Again, a Russian subject has been arrested for joining in the plot, and this may provoke a conflict with the Czar. This conspiracy may, therefore, lead to the most important results, and Turkey may be thoroughly revolutionized.

"WORK WHILE IT IS YET DAY."

With the example of what has been achieved in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia before us, we will be recreant to every trust if we intermit a single opportunity for labor in the Democratic cause. Every merchant, trader, capitalist and mechanic in Memphis, every farmer and laborer in Shelby county, should resolve to make it his business to work earnestly and without ceasing for SEYMOUR and BLAIR, and our noble standard bearer, Dr. LEFTWICH. Let the plow rest in the furrow, lay by the shovel and the hoe, let the tools rest in the workshop, and give Tuesday next to the cause of your country, to the interests of Democracy, if you would escape an overbearing taxation and the anarchy and confusion incident to the supremacy of Radicalism.

NO ELECTIONS IN TEXAS.

From a correspondence between the Democratic Central Committee of Texas and Gen. J. J. REYNOLDS, commanding in that State, we learn that, the late order of the President to the contrary notwithstanding, the people of Texas will not be permitted to vote for Presidential Electors on the 3d of November. The order of President JOHNSON, it now appears, only applies to those States that have been reconstructed, therefore the order of Gen. REYNOLDS prohibiting an election in Texas, is in full force, and his subordinate officers are charged with its enforcement. In view of this fact the Democratic papers of Texas request their people to refrain from any demonstration or show of voting on Tuesday next, and quietly to submit to the powers that be. As it is to be in Texas, so it will be in Virginia and Mississippi.

BEFORE AND AFTER THE WAR.

Before the war there was not a State in the Union whose public affairs were more economically administered than those of Tennessee. Under successive Democratic administrations, that of ISHAM G. HARRIS being notable among them, the taxes for State purposes declined to a figure half what they were within six years—indeed within the closing year of Gov. JOHNSON'S last term, and the commencement of that of Gov. HARRIS. Prosperous to an extent not even to be dreamed of now, the people of the State in 1860 were called upon to pay a State tax of only 7 cents on each $100 worth of property, whereas now, when poorer by one-half than they were then, they are forced to pay 45 cents upon every $100 worth of property.

From 1858 to, and including 1860, (the most prosperous years of our existence as a State) there was collected from all sources of revenue in the State, $2,639,342 26, (including $420,403 32 from the Bank of Tennessee in the year 1859), and this while the property tax was 13 1-16 cents in 1858 and 1859, and only 7 cents (as above quoted) in 1860; the tax on privileges and the poll tax being correspondingly low.

By contrast with this, and as warning us of the bankruptcy and ruin into which we are being precipitated by him, we learn that under BROWNLOW'S administration the property tax was, in 1865, 25 cents on the $100 worth of property; in 1866, 27½ cents, and in 1867, 45 cents—the total amounts collected from all sources of revenue in those three years being $3,564,275 94, thus: In 1865, $134 860 03; in 1866, $1,093,970 52; and in 1867, $2,336,444 55.

Thus the BROWNLOW administration, at an average property tax of 32½ cents on the $100 worth of property, raised in two years and a half $1,405,336 58 more than was collected in 1858-9-60, when the property tax averaged but 11 cents, (a fraction over one-third the BROWNLOW average), on the $100 worth of property, and when the State was possessed of twice the property resource she now can claim.

And this is the state of public affairs we are asked to perpetuate by the election of BROWNLOW Radicals, and a suppliant yielding to the "powers that be." The business man, be he Republican or Democrat, that deliberately supports the men who are responsible for this condition of our financial affairs deserves to be robbed of his property and to be crippled in his income. As President JOHNSON and Governor SEYMOUR have both said, it is not a matter of who are to be our office-holders, but whether the State is to be ruined by a financial policy such as the official figures above prove is that which prevails in Tennessee. Think of this, merchants. Think of this, mechanics. Think of this, farmers and planters. Think of this, laboring and workingmen of all grades and capacities, and say if you are willing to assist in your own ruin by voting Radicalism into office?

RIOTS, MURDERS, OUTRAGES, ROBBERIES AND CONFLAGRATIONS AUTHORIZED.

During the progress of the canvass we have from time to time warned our people that the startling outrages, murders and conflagrations committed with such rapidity and seeming concert of action by the negroes throughout the South, was but the deliberate carrying out of a programme agreed upon by the Radical Junta at Washington early last summer. By the desertion from the Radical ranks of good men who would not lend themselves to such vileness and infamy, the leading Democrats of the North were long since put in possession of the particulars of this horrible plot, which, from prudential reasons affecting the result of the contest, they have hitherto witheld. But, realizing from the "Massacre of St. Bernard" and the continued disorders by the blacks in Louisiana and Texas, that the wretches have determined to carry out their devilish conceptions, it has been determined to give to the world the particulars, that all may be warned and govern themselves accordingly.

Too long for insertion in full in our columns, we have been at some pains to make a synopsis of the facts of this rascality, as furnished by Major-Gen. THOMAS A. DAVIES, a noted officer in the Union army during the war, and an engineer and geologist of some prominence in the State of New York.

From the Ogdensburg (N. Y.) Advance Extra, in which we find the speech of Gen. DAVIES published at length, we learn that there was a Radical caucus in Washington about the commencement of the present political campaign, attended by the dignitaries of that party, and that it was by them unanimously resolved,

To repeal the present Reconstruction Acts and pass another series, confiscating the entire property of the Rebels and giving it to the negroes—to disfranchise the Rebels forever and place all power in colored hands.

To urge high tariffs, to give the national banks the use of the public money free of charge, to free the national bonds from taxation; to employ ministers of the Gospel to sow the seeds of dissension between the white and the black race, and excite riots, bloodshed, murder and outrage, and thus sustain the popular Radical outcry of fresh rebellion! rebellion!

They also agreed upon the issuance of a most insulting circular, addressed to the Southern people, through General LEE. Also upon their organization in committees as follows:

"Committee on the Hopper of Death," to attend to the getting up of riots and see that as many negroes as possible are killed, the murders to be charged, whether rightfully or wrongfully, upon the white people of the South.

A Committee on Printing, to arrange accounts of riots, murders and hangings, so as to claim all deaths of negroes and Union men as Rebel outrages and fresh evidences of rebellion.

A Committee of Defense of Twenty-five, to supply negroes with poison and all descriptions of weapons necessary to commit the offenses which in Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and South Carolina have excited the apprehension of all right-thinking men, and charge, as the Radicals have charged, their perpetration upon the peaceably disposed white people, and thus excuse their harsh laws as necessary in the defense of the "flag," and the suppression of rebels who are restive under the mild and beneficent sway of Congress.

There were other Committees, less important than these, but all necessary to the complete carrying out of a programme, that were it not for the promptness of President JOHNSON, the presence of United States troops under Democratic general officers, and the steady and unflinching bravery of the Southern people themselves, would long since have culminated in a general massacre in the South. Think of this, voters, on the 3d of November.

By Telegraph.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, October 29.—The letter of Thomas W. Conway, State Superintendent of Education, to Gen. Grant, on the 1st U. S. Infantry, and by him (Gen. Grant) referred, through the proper channel, to that regiment, together with the comments of nineteen officers of the regiment thereon, is published in the Picayune this morning. These pronounce it malicious slander and unmitigated falsehood. Lieut.-Col. Sheldon, Surgeon, indorses upon the letter that Conway, while a minister of the gospel and Chaplain of a colored regiment in this city in 1864, persistently attempted to draw money from the Government through him to which he was clearly not entitled. Gen. Buchanan's indorsement states that Conway knew he was uttering an unprovoked malicious slander, and but for his official position no notice would be taken of the letter.

Police affairs are still badly mixed.

Gen. Steadman this evening tendered his resignation, but it was not accepted.

Thomas E. Adams, formerly Chief of Police—removed by Gen. Sheridan—was ordered by the Mayor to resume his duties as Chief of Police. Adams presented himself at the police office and demanded possession, but was refused—several Metropolitan Police Commissioners being at the office.

It being generally represented by the Republicans that the Democracy intend to carry the coming election by fraud, violence and intimidation, and that the recent disturbances were but the croppings of this determination, the Central Committee of the Independent Democratic clubs representing all the Democratic clubs in the Parish of Orleans, this evening adopted resolutions guaranteeing to every voter in this Parish, without reference to race, color or politics, full protection in the exercise of suffrage, and guaranteeing them against any and all acts of intimidation and fraud, and calling upon every voter in the city or State to exercise his right of suffrage on the 3d of November next.

It was further resolved that whilst as Democrats they would use all fair and honorable means to secure the success of their party, they will resort to no means whatever to intimidate political enemies, and prevent their voting on that day: invite all persons of whatever political complexion to join in the effort to secure peace and harmony at the polls on the day of election, to the end that the most timid person—member of any party—may feel assured of safety and protection against danger or undue influences in the exercise of suffrage.

The committee promulgating these resolutions represent the clubs who on Monday evening tendered their services en masse to the Mayor for the restoration and preservation of the peace. Aside from the spirit of these resolutions, Gen. Roseau has received further accessions of troops, and will be able to prevent all but individual acts of violence.

A general parade of the Democratic clubs of the Parish was contemplated for Saturday night, but has been abandoned.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, October 29.—A number of Government clerks and others have already left for various States to vote on next Tuesday, reduced fare being allowed to those only who can furnish certificates from a political club.

LOUISVILLE, October 29.—The Courier's Washington special says the public debt statement for October will be promulgated by Secretary McCulloch on the fifth of November. The expenses of the War Department for the month will exceed $10,000,000—principally chargeable on the reconstruction account. The receipts from customs have been very heavy, and will reach $15,000,000. The Secretary claims that there will be a further reduction in the public debt.

Attorney General Evarts had under consideration to-day the whisky case referred to him last week. His decision will not be made public until Saturday. It is altogether probable, with his enlarged views, the decision will be made satisfactory to the interest of the West.

The Radical clerks are on the war path, having resolved last night to arm and defend themselves against the Baltimoreans, whom they swear maltreated some of them in their transit through that city to vote in the October elections.

Secretary Schofield to-day issued an order directing that all the clerks in the War Department and the various bureaus thereof, who desire, be allowed to go home and vote on Tuesday. As already announced, seventy-five of the female clerks in the Treasury Department will be removed on the first of October. The list has been made out and the ladies generally are in a terrible flutter as to whose names are on it. One hundred male clerks will also be discharged from that Department.

BINGHAMPTON.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., October 29. Three large store houses, occupied by Fillotson and W. J. Morgan, all filled with grain and considerable wool, were burned this morning. The armory of the Forty-fourth regiment was burned also, with arms, etc. Loss on armory, $10,000. The loss of storehouses is estimated at nearly $100,000.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, October 29.—W. W. Almsly, a dissipated character, choked his wife to death this morning in the lower part of the city—the result of a three day's drunk enjoyed by both. Almsly escaped.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Butt Riley and Abe Hicken, two noted pugilists, were up in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday, having been arrested by the police while engaged in a prize fight in the rear yard of the drinking saloon No. 755 Broadway. They had locked the door, and when the police came, at the call of the proprietor, the door had to be broken in before they could gain admittance. Riley was badly punished, and the entire party was released on $500 bail each.

It is stated that the contract between the Postoffice Department and Wells, Fargo and Co., for the transportation of the overland mails to California, was was closed yesterday. By its terms the contractors receive $1,750,000 per annum for carrying the mails 800 miles; and as the progress of the Pacific road decreases the distance of transportation, the price will be correspondingly decreased. It is estimated that the contract will not cost the Government more than $750,000, if the railroad is completed next July.

At three o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the large five story building, Nos. 35 and 37 Wooster street, occupied by Andrew Bros. as a shirt factory, T. & W. Lyoll, manufacturers of looms, and Blossom & Co., paper collars. The entire building was destroyed with its valuable contents. At four o'clock the walls fell, damaging and destroying Nos. 33 and 39 Wooster, and 40 Lawrence street. The total loss is estimated at a quarter of a million.

The Havana steamer brings a copy of the proclamation by the Republican Revolutionary Committee. It is full of fire, and breathes the most revolutionary spirit. The document recites acts of despotism by the Government of Queen Isabella, and concludes with a strong appeal to Cubans to pronounce for a Federal Republic.

We pronounce for liberty, equality, fraternity. Cubans and Spaniards, we demand public suffrage without coercion, and dissolution of the prominent army establishment, of a national militia, justice for all classes, municipal independence, liberty of the press, liberty of discussion, freedom of commerce, freedom of industry, freedom to emigrate, abolition of monopoly. Let us defend our liberty with dignity, and respect all opinions. Let us embrace the opportunity to secure the freedom of Cuba. We greet the victors of Spain! Viva Spanish liberty! Viva the liberty of Cuba! Viva the federal republic!

MASSACHUSETTS.

LYNN, MASS., October 29.—A prize fight, for the championship and $2000, between Ned O'Baldwin and Joe Wormald commenced at Lynnfield, twelve miles from Boston, this morning at eight o'clock. One round was fought in ten minutes and closed. A squad of fourteen policemen broke into the ring and seized the principals before they could leave, while the crowd scattered like a flock of sheep. The arrested parties were brought to Lynn for arraignment before Justice Newhall.

There were about 800 roughs at Springfield to witness the fight. The Lynn authorities, getting information of it, sent an officer in citizens dress to mingle with the crowd, while a force of thirteen managed to get within call. In the first round Wormald drew blood from his antagonist, when a clinch was made and Wormald slipped and fell. At this moment the officers made a dash and captured the principals. A show of resistance was made, which subsided when the officers showed pistols. Wormald and O'Baldwin were immediately taken to Lynn and arraigned in police court, and held for $5000 bail for appearance from day to day. They have not yet secured bail.

CITY MATTERS.

ANOTHER beautiful day yesterday.

FELIX CROSS has our thanks for late papers.

THE NICHOLSON is progressing on Monroe street rapidly.

THE JUSTICES' courts did not furnish an item yesterday.

DISCHARGES in bankruptcy were granted J. M. Keating, James R. Corney and A. R. Morton yesterday.

A LETTER from Dr. Rogers was unavoidably crowded out from this issue It will appear to-morrow.

THE GRAND JURY of the Municipal Court will to-day take up the case against Mr. and Mrs. Pepper for inhuman treatment of a little child.

THE ball for the benefit of the Henry A. Wise fund was, we learn, quite a success. A report of the earnings will be made at an early day.

WE LEARN that the match between Cockrell's horse "John" and Montgomery's mare "Peggy" is made, and the money up. May the best nag win!

THE Board of County Commissioners met yesterday, but did nothing except make a few appropriations and alter tax assessments. They adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of meeting yesterday Columbus Barrett, Esq., of the Holly Springs Reporter. Mr. Barrett is on his way to Louisville, and remains in the city only a day or two.

THE registration of negroes and Radicals continued yesterday. The total number registered up to 4 o'clock being ten thousand eight hundred and eight (10,808)—or one hundred and sixty-seven for the twenty-four hours ending at 4 o'clock p.m.

A SICK NEGRO was lying in the doorway or entrance of the County Court building for several hours yesterday. Although hundreds of his own race and color, and scalawags innumerable were passing him and standing around him all the time, not one offered to assist him. Late last evening he was still lying there.

Attention, Country and Retail Merchants. Large stock Calicoes, Bleached and Brown Domestics, Linseys, Kerseys, Osnaburgs, Flannels. Boots and Shoes and Clothing being sold out at extra bargains, J. H. Loewenstine & Bros, No. 231 Main street.

THEATER.—A passable house greeted Miss Charlotte Thompson last night as "Camille," in which character she was only passable. Mr. Hamilton in the role of "Armand" was good, while "Madame Prudence," whose name did not appear on the bills, was excellent. To-night is the farewell benefit of Miss Thompson, the play selected being School for Scandal.

A SNEAK THIEF, one of the meanest sort, entered the building occupied by Squires Waiton and Black, and Dr. Ingall, on Second Street, opposite the Greenlaw Opera House, and "went through" every office in the building, getting a case of instruments from the Doctor, worth $50, and something of value out of each office. No clue has been obtained to the thief.

PROF. HASELMAYER with his goblin drum, trained canaries and wonderful tricks of magic and legerdemain is mightily entertaining, mystifying and delighting large and fashionable audiences. There will be only three more chances to go and see him, and no one should neglect to avail themselves of them. There will be a matinee to-morrow for the benefit of ladies and children—of which due notice will be given. Go by all means.

THE RUTH AND LADY GAY.—We are happy to inform the merchants and shippers that R. W. Lightburne, general steamboat agent, has perfected arrangements by which the steamers Ruth and Lady Gay will form a regular packet line between this point and New Orleans—one of the above boats leaving Memphis every Saturday evening. The capacious steamer Ruth will arrive here this evening to leave promptly at five p.m. Saturday, the 31st inst. Robt. W. Lightburne, the agent, will receive freight and cotton for the Ruth to-day. This steamer will be the first boat down for New Orleans.

MOLLIE HAMBLETON SUNK.—The steamer Mollie Hambleton, which left this port for the St. Francis river on Tuesday last, ran upon a log just above Brown's Landing, in the St. Francis river, on Wednesday night about seven o'clock, and tore out her bottom from about midships her boilers to her shaft. She sunk immediately in eight feet water aft, with her bow out. No lives were lost and but a small lot of her freight was damaged by water. Mr. Billy Clark, her clerk, arrived here last night on the Olive Branch. The Hambleton is about four years old and was owned by Capt. Thomas Bowman. She was valued at $18,000, and we believe that her insurance had expired. Capt. Bowman left here a day or so ago for Louisville, but will return to-day. Capt. Shall has been in command of the Hambleton for several trips, and is now at the wreck. Protest was entered yesterday at Helena.

THE WRONG PLACE.—In our report yesterday morning of the accident that happened to F. W. Louis, we stated that he had been carried to the "Tunnel Saloon" on Adams street. It seems that he was not transported thither, however, but to a neighboring beer house, which is the headquarters of the Radicals and scalawags. We make haste to correct a statement which might do an irreparable injury to a good hard working Democrat. The error was unintentional on our part, and we very much regret it. The public—and especially the German public, whom Louis has disgraced, and whose decency has been put to the blush—would no doubt have rather heard of his having been carried to Holst's, or Flaherty & Walsh's. He was, unfortunately for the dignity and decency of all who speak the grand old Teutonic language, and love the glory of Germany, not hurt much, and will live to disgrace and dishonor his countrymen frequently during the coming struggle.

CENTRAL PARK.

Grand Balloon Ascension—A Gone Dog.

A large crowd of pleasure-seekers and of those who were charitably inclined, went out yesterday to Central Park to attend the fete champetre given by Messrs. McClure & O'Conner for the benefit of St. Peter's Orphan Asylum. A grand bill of amusements were offered for the day, and we understand that all enjoyed themselves who went out. The feature of the day was a grand ascension, which we have noticed extensively for days past, of Prof. Brooks and his grand balloon "Constitution." Some local excitement was created by the announcement that a lady and gentleman, well known in this city, would accompany him. When the time came the lady "backed out," we understand, but the gentleman went up. The ropes were out about five o'clock, and the balloon shot up into the air like a rifle ball. The last seen of it, it was floating northward, apparently in a slow upper current, at least a mile from the earth. Little Joey Britton, who, with the confidence of youth, and with the ambition of an older head than is usually covered with such silken curls loaned his favorite dog to the Professor, to be carried up and sent down by a parachute, hoping thereby to make his 'purp' famous among other dogs. When about two thousand feet high the 'dorg' was turned loose in mid air, but alas for his success as an aeronaut, the parachute did not open, and the last that was seen of that dog he was coming down toward the earth "like a falling star." Up to the latest accounts, although it is supposed that he had got down, he had not come home, and it is surmised that the poor dog is lost. Joey offers $20 reward for his safe recovery and return to Britton's saloon, on Front row. When last seen the balloon was rapidly descending, apparently some five or six miles north—northwest of the city, but up to present writing (midnight) no news of the balloon or its crew have come to hand.

THE CAMPAIGN

Meeting at Stillman Hall.

Stillman Hall has not been so well filled for a long time as it was last night in response to the call in the morning papers, to hear the Hon. John W. Leftwich and other Democratic leaders. The excellent brass band of John Jones was present, and added not a little to the ardor of all present. Dr. Leftwich was the first speaker, and on taking the stand, was loudly and enthusiastically cheered. He opened with a brief review of the canvass, its progress and the present condition and aspiration of all parties; contrasting the decency and social status of the white men composing the two antagonistic parties, in the course of which remarks he depicted in a vivid manner the degrading tendencies of Radicalism.

Take, he said, the brightest light in religion, learning, the law—the most admired and honored man in any of the walks or professions of life, and let him affilliate with the Radical party, and how short a time does it take before he is fallen so low that none will do him homage! He described the difference between the Democratic and Radical parties as being simply this: the Democratic party seeks to bring all men to near a common level by trying to elevate the negro to the level of the white man, while the Radical party tries to reach the same level by degrading the white man to the level of the negro. Dr. Leftwich made many happy hits during the course of his remarks, and was enthusiastically cheered. He closed his speech by assuring hif hearers that he was confident of being elected by them on Tuesday next.

After he sat down loud and long calls were made for Col. Mariand L. Perkins, who responded in his eloquent style. Several others were called upon after Judge Perkins, and speaking was kept up until a late hour. A most cheering sign indeed was the hearty manner in which good hits or sound arguments were received. The people show that although one or two chicken-hearted newspapers, and suborned rascals, were disposed to throw up the sponge and halloo "enough," at the result of the late election, they—the masses rank and file—have no such ideas, and on next Tuesday they will come up in such a manner as to make Radicalism howl.

REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES.

How Judge Carey Construes the Law.

Important to Non-Registered Voters.

Under the circumstances under which the registration of the voters of this county closed, and considering the number of honest Union voters in our midst who have been robbed of their votes by the rascality of the Registrar, "Capt." Sears, the following becomes of vast and peculiar interest to our readers. It is a decision of Judge Carey's, rendered on Tuesday, at Nashville, and is taken from the Banner of Wednesday:

A few days ago Messrs. Colyar and Semmes filed a petition for a mandamus from the Circuit Court, to compel Enos Hopkins, then Commissioner of Registration, to issue a certificate to an applicant who had been honorably discharged from the United States army, but to whom Hopkins had refused to give a certificate. We are now informed by gentlemen of the bar that Judge Carey has refused to grant the mandamus, upon the ground that no certificate was necessary in such a case. The only inference that can be drawn from this decision is, that the applicant has the right to vote without a certificate. This is a new phase of the registration business, and will no doubt startle some of the faithful. Hundreds of honorably discharged Union soldiers throughout Tennessee have heretofore been denied the right of voting by the arbitrary action of irresponsible Commissioners of Registration, and we hope that the ruling of Judge Carey will be acquiesced in by the other courts of the State.

FIRE AT WYTHE STATION.

HICKORY WYTHE, TENN., Oct. 27, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Gentlemen: Mr. Berlin, merchant of this place, lost his storehouse and nearly all its contents by fire, about 7 p.m. today; the loss supposed to be about four thousand dollars, insured, I am told, for two thousand dollars. The fire was accidental. A young man in Mr. B.'s employment was sent to the wareroom to draw some coal oil, and placing the lamp too near, it ignited the barrel of coal oil, and quick as thought the room was filled with flames. I was present, and saw that every effort was made to extinguish it, but in vain. The house was wood and burned rapidly. The building was old, but in good repair. Capt. Joseph Lenow, of your city, sold goods in it many years ago, when he was a citizen of this place.

The reading of the minutes of the former meeting was dispensed with, and the

Charles B. Hall, was received and referred to a special committee of three. The following are the most important points:

In commencing his report, the Grand Patriarch briefly reviewed the year that had passed since the last convocation, and said it had been one of unexampled prosperity to the Order. He also alluded feelingly to the deep and heavy responsibilities which attached to his position. He then proceeded to lay before the Convocation a record of his official acts for the past year, of which the following is a compendium: With a view of increasing our membership sufficiently to entitle us to an additional representative in the Grand Lodge of the United States, my first official act was to issue a circular, one of which was mailed to each D. D. G. P., and one to each Encampment in the jurisdiction, viz.: the circular herewith submitted and marked No. 1. In accordance with a resolution passed at the last session, on the 29th of November, I issued a duplicate charter to Knoxville Encampment No. 11, in the names of the original charter members, with instructions to reorganize said Encampment as soon as possible. I have not received any official report of the proceedings, but learned through the Grand Scribe that after having organized and held one meeting their hall was destroyed by fire together with all the Lodge property. The Camp charter and books, however, were saved, they being in possession of Patriarch Rodgers at the time. They have since organized and are now at work.

NEW CHARTERS.

On December 31st, I issued charter for a new Encampment, to be located at Chapel Hill, Marshall county, to be known and hailed as Chapel Hill Encampment No. 21. On January 15th, I issued charter for a new Encampment, to be located at Trenton, Gibson county, to be known and hailed as Gibson Encampment No. 28. On March 26th, I issued a charter for a new Encampment, to be located at Bell Buckle, Bedford county, to be known and hailed as Bell Buckle Encampment No. 29. May 9th, I issued charter for a new Encampment, to be located at Nolensville, Williamson county, to be known and hailed as Poston Encampment No. 30.

VISITATIONS.

On the 12th of August I visited Hebron Encampment No. 23, of Lebanon, (by invitation.)

On the 13th of August I visited La Guardo Encampment No. 25, at La Guardo, Wilson county. This is a new Encampment, been at work but one year; its membership is composed of the very best material in the community.

I visited Washington Encampment No. 2, at Columbia, on the 26th day of August, and found their affairs in a deplorable condition. They had held but one meeting since January, a period of nearly eight months; had not elected any officers for the present term, and, in fact, had not done any business whatever.

On the 15th of the present month I visited Wilson Encampment No. 15, at Shelbyville, and am sorry to inform you that instead of harmony and brotherly kindness, discord and contention reigns supreme.

QUESTIONS FOR DECISION.

There has been but few questions submitted for my decision, one of which came up on appeal from the decision of Haywood Encampment No. 13, under the following circumstances: At the last meeting of the Grand Encampment the by-laws of Haywood Encampment were sent up for approval, and acted upon by the committee and approved. The representative on his return informed the Camp that they had been so badly mutilated by the committee that they were unintelligible, whereupon another committee was appointed to draft a new set of by-laws, which they did. The question then arose as to which by-laws they should be governed, those which had been approved by the Grand Encampment or those which had not. The Chief Patriarch decided those which had been approved by the Grand Encampment. An appeal was taken, and the Camp refused to sustain the Chief Patriarch, whereupon the Chief Patriarch prayed an appeal to the Grand Encampment, which was granted and the question submitted to me for decision. I sustained the appeal and reversed the decision of the Encampment.

The following question was submitted by Olive Branch Encampment No. 4 viz: Can an elective officer of an Encampment who withdraws by card for the purpose of applying for a new charter for a new Encampment, be restored to his office without a ballot? I answered that he could not,

In July, I received a letter from D. D. G. P. Rogers, of Knoxville Encampment No. 11, asking whether or not they could elect R. P. degree members to any office in the Encampment, where there was none qualified by having served in inferior offices, to which I replied as follows, viz: I can see no good reason why you should not elect R. P. degree members to any office in your Encampment for the time being, and until you shall have a sufficient number of qualified members to fill all the offices. The law allows all new Encampments this privilege, and I think a newly re-organized Camp should come under the same head. You are therefore authorized to proceed accordingly for at least one full term. These are all the questions of any importance that have been submitted.

RELIEF FUND.

The receipt of $1800 from the Grand Lodge of the United States is acknowledged, that being the amount of the apportionment due Tennessee. One hundred dollars of this has been given to Knoxville Encampment No 11, leaving $1500 in the hands of the Grand Patriarch, subject to the order of the Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment.

ORPHAN HOME AND SCHOOL.

Resolved, That a Committee of Three be appointed by this R. W. Grand Body to present plans of building, location, rules and regulations for the government of, and ways for the maintenance of a State Orphan's Home and School for the benefit of the orphans of this Order.

This resolution was not complied with; the Grand Encampment did not appoint the committee. I would suggest the propriety of appointing a committee, to act in conjunction with a similar committee, should one be appointed by the Grand Lodge, to petition the Legislature for an act of incorporation for an institution of the kind contemplated by the resolution.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Reports show the Patriarchal branch of the Order to be in a healthy condition.

We now have twenty-three Encampments at work, against fourteen last year, from twenty-two of which we have received reports, (the other, Poston Encampment No. 30, will make its first report in January.) The reports show the number of members to be 805, against 674 last year—a gain of 221, or about thirty-three per cent.

The report refers to the reports of the Grand Scribe and Grand Tressurer for a showing of the financial condition of the Order. It also recommends several changes in the financial system, as the present does not yield sufficient to meet current expenses. A statement is submitted with the report showing the condition of every encampment in the State, made up from the best and latest information.

The report concludes by paying a high and deserved tribute to the R. W. G. Scribe, R. H. Barry, and returning thanks to all the D. D. G. P., for their promptness and kindness. The whole of which is submitted in friendship, love and truth.

The reports of the Grand Scribe and Grand Treasurer were read, received, and referred to the Finance Committee. The report of the Grand Representative, Jno. F. Hide, was referred to a special committee of three, Phillips, Brown and Foust.

On motion of Geo. F. Fuller, Wednesday morning, at ten o'clock, was set as the time for going into secret session and election of officers.

In the afternoon session the assemblage was most eloquently and beautifully addressed by E. D. Farnesworth, Grand Sire elect of the Grand Lodge of the United States. After which, several standing committees reported, and the session adjourned until nine o'clock tomorrow morning. O. F.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Yesterday.

Election of Officers.

The Shelby County Agricultural and Mechanical Society met yesterday morning at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, and finishing up the business of the Fair.

At eleven o'clock, A. B. Haynes in the chair, and H. D. Greer, Secretary, the meeting was called to order, and the chair announced that the Society would proceed to the election of officers.

Col. Leon Trousdale moved that the election be deferred until the Society resolve itself into a Joint Stock Association and receive a charter from the State.

Lost, and Col. Donovan moved that the election for officers proceed. Carried.

A ballot was then commenced which continued until two o'clock, when the votes were counted, with the following result: For President—M. D. L. Stewart, 23; A. B. Haynes, 15. M. D. L. Stewart was therefore elected President, and the following gentlemen as Vice Presidents: George C. Holmes, 1st; A. B. Haynes, 2d; and A. J. Hays, 3d. W. H. Lake was elected Recording, and John McBrooks Corresponding, Secretary. The Executive Committee consists of Enoch Ensly, N. C. Perkins, Jno. Donovan, Leon Trousdale, and F. Hall.

Col. Trousdale offered a resolution that preliminary steps be taken immediately to resolve this society into a joint stock company, and that a committee of five be appointed to secure a charter and draft a constitution. Carried, and Messrs. Trousdale, K. J. L. Winn, C. A. Rose, N. C. Perkins and C. J. Hays, were appointed on said committee.

A resolution was then offered to appoint a committee of conference, to consist of three, to confer with the Memphis Racing Association (whose name under their charter is the "Memphis Agricultural Association of Memphis"), with a view to fusing both societies into one. Adopted, and Messrs. Ensly, Holmes and Haynes appointed on the committee.

On motion, the following vote of thanks was passed unanimously:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Association are due, and are hereby tendered to the morning press of Memphis, to whose untiring efforts the success of the late fair was mainly due, for their full and accurate reports, and other courtesies extended by them.

The following was also offered and passed:

Resolved, That a Committee of Three be appointed to perfect the constitution and by-laws of the Association.

Dr. Peter, Col. Donovan and John McBrooks were appointed on the committee.

A vote of thanks was passed to each retiring officer.

Messrs. Orgill Brothers announced to the Society that they would donate the total amount of their premiums (some $28 or $30).

Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Geo. C. Holmes and H. H. Harrison made the same announcements.

By a resolution it was determined to give a certificate with every premium.

The Secretary announced that he would be present on Saturday, at 10 o'clock, at the office of Royster, Trezevant & Co., to pay all premiums and give certificates.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned to the first Saturday in January, at Eudora Church, White Station, Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCE.

Outside the usual offerings of cotton bills, our discount houses had nothing to report to-day. Several heavy bills were taken upon points East at the ruling rate of ½ discount, and smaller ones upon New England towns at ¼ discount. The demand for Exchange is rather lighter, but at no time since the cotton season set in has it been equal to the offerings, and currency has not ceased to flow hitherward by express.

The local Scrip market is quite active. City Scrip is in large demand. Stree brokers are offering 81@82½, but we could learn of no sales. Tax payers can buy at 84@86c.

County Warrants are changing hands rapidly, but at lower rates—$9000 in several lots was taken by a dealer at 64½c. A question of legality has sprung up in reference to the Warrants recently issued over the signature of Mr. Merriman, and they are not in favor, but now that Barbour Lewis has returned and will no doubt reasume the duties of Chairman of the Board as well as issue Warrants ad libitum, we presume there will be no diminution in the supply. Dealers are anxious to sell at 66a and would not refuse 65o for a large amount. As we inferred in our issue of yesterday several large property holders have decided not to pay their county taxes at present, but prefer to incur the 2 per cent penalty, feeling satisfied that they will be able to buy at lower rates hereafter and save money by the operation.

Gold opened in New York at 134¼ and closed at 134¼. Our dealers buy at New York rates and sell at ¼ to 1c better.

Stocks and bonds are firm, but no sales reported. There is a good inquiry for city bonds at 54c, but none can be had under 55c, and it is questionable whether any large sum could be bought at the latter figure.

Police Scrip is firm. Dealers buy at 80@81c. Selling at 84@86c, as to the amount.

The small amount of School Scrip which has been issued is about exhausted, and brokers have advanced their buying rates to 85@87c. Selling at 90@92c.

F. S. Davis, Esq., President of the First National Bank, who has been absent some weeks, returned from the East on Thursday evening and was greeted by his many friends yesterday.

The Georgia Railroad and Banking Company will shortly reopen their bank at Augusta. The interests of that section require greater banking facilities and the old Georgia Railroad Bank enjoys the unbounded confidence of the people of that section.

The Liverpool and Charleston, S. C., line of steamers will commence operations on the 15th prox. The iron steamer Golden Horn will leave Charleston on that day for Liverpool and a vessel will thereafter leave on the 1st and 15th of each month for the same destination.

COTTON.

The Liverpool market was buoyant at the opening to-day. Uplands, 11d; Orleans, 11¼d, and at 1 p.m. was firm, with quotations unchanged. Sales 12,000. The New York market opened quiet, but steady. At noon there was no change. Uplands 25½c, and at the close was quiet and weak. Uplands nominally 25½c. Sales 1250 bales. In New Orleans the market opened quiet but steady. Middlings 23½c, at 2 p.m. the demand was fair but at lower rates. Middlings 23½c. Sales 2300 bales.

Our market has been in a passive state and is kept up entirely by the spirit of holders who do not intend to sell except they can do so without allowing more than a reasonable margin on New York quotations. Buyers hold off, believing that in a few days the market will break down not only here but elsewhere. Their only grounds for basing this opinion is, that receipts are increasing at all the ports, but it must be remembered that this first rush of cotton to market is only to relieve the temporary necessities of planters, and as soon as this is done receipts will fall off without prices are favorable. Among the sales to-day were 42 bales ordinary ar 21c; 31 good ordinary 21½; 17, 5 5, at 21½c; 12 low middlings at 22c; 35, 73, 100, 6 70, 16 and 8 at 22c; 45 and 22 at 21½c; 72 at 22 15-100c; 25 at 22½c; 11 middlings at 22½c; 67, 130, 33 and 25 at 22½c; 24 and 11 at 22½c; 15, 35, 32, 13, 12 and 25 at 22½c; 10 at 22½c; 31 at 22½c; 40 at 22 30-100; 20 strict middlings at 23c; 14 at 23c; 3 at 23½c; 2, 2, 6 and 4 at 23½c; 23 good middlings at 23½; 3 and 8 at 24c. It will be seen that prices were somewhat irregular, classifications running into each other in many cases, but on the whole quotations were about ½c lower than yesterday on middlings.

TRADE.

The general markets to-day were much the same as yesterday. The dry clear weather of the past day or two has kept a large number of planters at home hurrying up the picking which is going on as rapidly as the limited force at their command will permit. Cotton receipts per wagon are heavy and have been so for some weeks.

The grocery market has been very little affected by the decline in gold, but prices are weaker on sugar and coffee, if not sensibly lower. In the Eastern markets these articles are down and dull. The new crop of sugar and molasses is arriving more freely in New Orleans, but so far none has yet arrived in this market.

Meats are still held in barely sufficient quantities to supply the demand, and remain firm at 18@18½, with an exceptional sale at 17½c by the lot on levee. Clear rib sides are quiet at 17½@18c. Mess pork is, and has been, scarce. In many cases our merchants have to fill orders with bacon in lieu of pork. A few bbls sold to-day at $32 50, but $33 is the ruling price. Prime mess—rump and jowls—are out of market. Shoulders are plentiful enough but are not in much demand.

The feed market is only moderately active. New shelled corn comes in sufficient quantities to supply the demand for feeding and for local milling purposes, but few of our dealers care to accumulate anything like a stock, as the grain is not yet dry enough to keep well.

Prices of grain in all the leading Western markets are rapidly declining and it is expected that holders will not be able to sustain themselves much longer under the immense accumulation which has been steadily going on since harvest.

A further reduction in the prices of freight to all points along White river is announced by the Memphis and White river packet company. In connection with freights the introduction of a packet into the Memphis and Vicksburg trade which will take place on to-morrow week will be a matter of vast importance to our merchants, as well as a convenience to persons living in the bends. We hope that Capt. Davis, who puts a boat into this trade, will be liberally supported by our merchants to the exclusion of outside boats, and that every effort will be made to recover the trade of this region which has been so long lost to us

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

MEMPHIS, October 30.—Weather clear and warm for the season. A change, however, will soon occur. For several nights past a heavy fog or smoke has formed about or before midnight, but clearing up after remaining a few hours. It has not alone confined itself to the river, but obscures the whole city. The river at this point is about stationary, with 6 feet of water to Cairo and 5½ feet thence to St. Louis; 4 feet from Cairo to Cincinnati is all that is reported. The Arkansas is unchanged.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Among the most important projects now before our people is that of making the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Company a home institution, with its headquarters in this city. In order to do this several of our prominent business men are about to invest in the line, so as to control it, and thereby secure to us a regular line of packets from this point to Fort Smith. The line will be composed of the best low water boats in any trade, several of which are already well known to our people, and two new ones are now being built expressly for the trade. Capt. John D Adams, the present Superintendent of the line, has a host of warm personal friends in this city, who are anxious to see the chief office of the line in this city, instead of Little Rock. Among those who have already taken stock in the line are Messrs. Schoolfield & Hanauer, Thomas H. Allen, J. J. Murphy, R. B. Walt & Co. H. A. Montgomery, J. J. Busby, C. P. Norris, W. S. Bruce & Co., Mart Walt & Co., Orgill Bros. & Co., Lane & Bro., and others whose names we cannot recall. With four boats running through to Fort Smith, a very large trade will flow to Memphis, which will in the aggregate amount to thousands yearly. Very large orders already come in by the boats of this line. The Caldwell, to use his own language, literally "smothered" one of our well known merchants yesterday. We will have more to say on this subject hereafter.

The Julia, Capt. Lockhart, with Andy Isaacs in the office, will pass down today at 5 p.m. for Vicksburg and the bends.

The W. A. Caldwell had 300 bales of cotton and a good passenger trip from the Arkansas. She departed last night with a fair trip.

The staunch packet Rubicon, with Capt. Bill Blake on the roof, and the handsome Al. Grissom in the office, passes up for St. Louis to-day at noon.

A clerk will be found upon the levee to-day to receive cotton for the Ruth. She comes light from Cairo and wants 1500 bales.

The Thompson Dean will be down tomorrow on her way to New Orleans.

The Olive Branch passed up last night She had over 100 head of cattle and 1600 bars of railroad iron.

The fine steamer City of Alton will be in port to leave for Cairo and St. Louis to morrow. Capt. Thompson is master, and Mr. Jim White clerk.

The Ozark is the regular United States mail steamer for Pine Bluff, leaving on Monday next. Captain Blaisdell commands.

The gay United States mail packet Mayflower, Capt. Wm. Ashford, leaves to-morrow for all points on White river, connecting at Devall's Bluff with the Little Rock train. Charley Smithers is the obliging chief clerk.

We learn that the little steamer Hambleton and the Economist will run from Little Rock to Fort Smith in connection with the White river line and the Little Rock Railroad.

The Natoma, Capt. Jim Lee, will back out to-day for Friar's Point and all way landings. She is a handsome passenger packet and very popular in the trade.

The famous and elegant Ruth, Capt. Pegram, will back out to-morrow evening for New Orleans. She has no superior as a passenger packet, and her carrying capacity is great as any of them. She will be in port to-night.

The steamer Falls City was sold on Wednesday at Louisville, by the Louisville and Green River Packet Company, to the Green River Packet Company, for $20,000. The Falls City will be continued in the trade, with her present crew. The purchasers, by the terms of the contract, are to keep a boat in the trade for four years. Judge Paine, of Bowling Green, is the President of the Company.

The old Ida Rees is being fixed up at Pittsburg for the Trinity river Texas trade. Pittsburg sends all her old boats South to die.

A Louisville and New Orleans line has been formed. The following boats go into the trade: Richmond, Indiana, Belle Lee, Dexter, Louisiana, Nick Longworth, Legal Tender, P. W. Strader, Louisville, Virginia, John Kilgour and Mary Houston. Louisville is coming out.

The city of Aurora, Ind., has donated $500 to the proposed Ohio river Congressional excursion.

The finishing touches are being put upon the railroad bridge across the Mississippi at Quincy, Ill., and it is expected that it will be ready for use in a few days. A raft of lumber, 400 feet long and 144 wide, containing over a million feet, passed through the draw on Saturday without trouble.

WOLFE'S Schiedam Schnapps.

It is now some twenty years since the proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over three thousand letters from physicians and others, stating that the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper-berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South, and Southwest are peculiarly liable—the SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS will be found absolutely infallible; while in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.
